

XV International Palynological Congress
XI International Organization of Palaeobotany Conference
200 Years of Palaeobotany

12-19 September, 2020; Prague, Czech Republic

Dear palynological and palaeobotanical colleagues,

Organizers of XV IPC/XI IOPC Prague 2020 received about twenty proposals for symposia for the original deadline at the end of August. Because that deadline covered a part of the Summer holiday and vacation time, the deadline for proposal for symposia was extended until the end of October. We believe that this provides everybody who is interested in running their own symposium the opportunity to do this and to be active in participation at the Conference. Proposals should be sent by email to: ipciopc2020@seznam.cz.

Proposal would include the title of symposium, names of convenors, brief characterization of the main goals, and a list of possible speakers. Every talk consists of 15 minutes for oral presentation and 5 minutes for discussion. Every paying participant can present one talk as a speaker or can show one poster. Individual participants can be co-author (not speaker) of more than one talk and poster.

Organizers in some cases may change the character of contributions from a talk to a poster presentation based on time and space pressures, and also room availability. Authors will be contacted in advance.

Send this message to your friends, co-authors and colleagues because not all palynologists and palaeobotanists are members of IFPS or IOP. Thank you very much for your kind help.

Follow all news and important dates on our website, please:

<https://www.prague2020.cz/introduction.php>

Thank you very much for your interest

Best wishes

Organizing committee of XV IPC/XI IOPC Prague 2020